

Congress May Boost Low-Rent Public Housing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two Democratic senators said today they believe the next Congress will authorize more new low-rent public housing than they expect President Eisenhower to recommend.

The similar statements were made in separate interviews by Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala.), a member of the Senate Banking subcommittee which handles housing legislation, and Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.).

Law Too Narrow
Each said the present law is too restrictive and that he will propose changes in it.

Albert M. Cole, federal housing administrator, has indicated Eisenhower may ask Congress to authorize the construction of 70,000 low-rent public housing units in the next two years. Eisenhower this year asked a four-year program of 140,000 units, but Congress authorized 35,000 units for each of two years.

Such housing projects are designed for persons in low income brackets. The federal government pays to local housing authorities the difference between the amount of rents collected from the tenants and the cost of maintaining the properties.

Slum Clearance Slowed
Sparkman said the 35,000-unit limit is so hedged by restrictions that it is doubtful whether more than 10,000 units a year could be built.

"These restrictions must be removed," he said, and added he expects they will be when Congress acts on proposed extension of the act.

Humphrey said that if the law does limit the number of units to be built, "it should be not less than 75,000 a year."

He said the present law requires that "for every public housing unit built, you must tear down an old housing unit, and relocate the family living in the old unit." He said that involves such burdensome planning operations that many municipalities in need of new projects and slum clearance have found it impossible to qualify within the time allowed."

Lansing Bandit Dies In Gunfight
LANSING (AP) — A 20-year-old Williamston youth was shot and killed today in a wild running gun battle after police said he made off with $50 from a Lansing gas station holdup.

Gerald Beckert was dropped by a police riot gun a block and a half from the Cavalier gas station after he held up William Broulder, the attendant, and left on foot.

Lansing police spotted Beckert shortly after the robbery as he attempted to start his car a block and a half from the scene. Officers said the car apparently had stalled.

The youth fled the vehicle while police traded shots with him on foot for about two blocks. Officers said he jumped into another car parked in a driveway and attempted to drive past them.

Apparently seeing his way was blocked, Beckert backed the car into another and was shot as he attempted to flee. He died an hour later in St. Lawrence Hospital.

Police said most of the money was recovered, but that some was strewn along streets during the escape attempt.

Brouder told police he recognized Beckert as the man who held him up in the station Dec. 17.

Highway Fatalities Set New Record For 2-Day Yule Holiday

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The nation's Christmas holiday accident death toll reached 499 today—a record including 379 traffic fatalities.

The traffic count during the two-day, 54-hour weekend passed the 370 pre-holiday estimate of the National Safety Council.

Fires claimed 62 lives. Fifty-eight persons died in a wide variety of other mishaps.

Ned H. Dearborn, president of the safety council, said the nation's motorists gave the agency "a Christmas present it didn't want" by proving the pre-holiday estimate "so tragically accurate."

The weekend's most costly tragedy, however, had nothing to do with motoring. It was a blast-fire Friday evening in the crowded kitchen of a tenant farmhouse near Parkin, Ark., which took 12 lives. The victims were members of two families. They died because a dormant wood stove fire was primed with a splash of kerosene.

Dearborn's comment on the heavy traffic attrition applied to all types of carelessness. "This is a bloody way to celebrate a holiday dedicated to 'Peace on Earth; Good Will to Men.'"

"We can only hope that the shock of this toll will result in greater care, courtesy and common sense in traffic over the New Year's."

The traffic toll was far heavier than the earlier record of 277 deaths for a similar period at Christmas 1948. The over all total, too, surpassed the 1948 mark of 396 for a two-day Christmas week-

House Un-American Activities Committee Heads For Shakeup

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Un-American Activities Committee seems headed for one of the biggest shakeups on Capitol Hill when the Democrats get control of Congress next week.

Changes are shaping up in the committee's 41-man staff, its appropriations and, perhaps, in its controversial procedures in hunting for subversives and in putting its findings before the public.

Only one switch is due on the committee membership roster itself: The 5-4 ratio in favor of Republicans during the 83rd Congress changes to a similar edge for the Democrats in January.

Biggest Bank Account
But Rep. Walter (D-Pa.), who takes over the chairmanship from Rep. Velde (R-Ill.), says the committee's activities will be handled differently.

Walter at one point suggested doing away with the committee altogether when the Democrats regain control. Party leaders reportedly decided that course might be risky politically.

As things now stand the Un-American Activities group, with fewer members than any other regular House committee, has just about the biggest bank account of the 19 committees. Its 1953-54 appropriations totaled $575,000, topped only by the $585,000 for the House Government Operations Committee which handles a wide variety of probes dealing with the government.

But Walter says the Un-American Activities group can do just as well on less money next year. Besides, the Democrats are reportedly unhappy about part of the present staff lineup.

Jobs In Jeopardy
Latest hot potato in the staff situation is the hiring of Rea Van Fossom, Nov. 24 as an $8,200-a-year investigator. Committee sources say Van Fossom was an Air Force

Two Ranchers Fight 5 Hunters, One Dead

JASPER, Tex. (AP)—Two ranchers and five hunters who accused them of killing a hunting dog shot it out in a wild Christmas Day gunfight, officers said.

A sixth hunter — the only one who didn't fire a shot, the sheriff said — was slain. Both ranchers and another hunter were wounded in the furious exchange of some 40 shots. Six men were charged with assault to murder.

Dist Atty. J. L. Smith said the grand jury will take the case Jan. 3.

Sheriff Tom Mixon said five hunters fought it out with two ranchers they accused of killing a hunting dog. He said the ranchers had often warned hunters they would kill any dogs they found in their pasture.

Roy Muench, 51, Beaumont, Tex., killed by a rifle blast through his chest, was the only one who didn't fire a shot, the sheriff said.

DETROIT (AP)—Four young children, left alone while their parents visited relatives near Ionia, escaped injury Sunday when fire broke out in the apartment.

Detectives said one of the children apparently had been playing with matches. Their father, Uda Raymer, insisted however, he had made sure there were no matches in the apartment when he and his wife, Verline, and their youngest child, Leon, 2 left on the visit.

Left in the apartment were Christine, 11, Justine, 9, Charles, 7, and General, 4.

Christine told firemen "we just ran out" when fire broke out in a closet, causing about $200 damage. A neighbor spotted the blaze and turned in an alarm.

The parents did not learn of the fire until they returned 24 hours later.

Free World Faces Crisis If French Spurn Arms Pact

Tension Pervades Holiday Retreat Of Eisenhower

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — President Eisenhower, awaiting France's crucial vote on West German rearmament, had another long telephone consultation with Secretary of State Dulles this morning.

The White House reported that Dulles told the President there was very little information at the present time on the progress of debate in the French National Assembly.

The plan to rearm the Germans as an equal partner in the free Western alliance must run the course of five more votes in the Assembly, and indications were that it would be late in the day before the final decision was reached.

Plane Stands Ready

If the French reject the plan, the President may return at once to Washington to grapple with a new world situation. His personal plane, Columbine III, is standing by near Augusta.

If German rearmament is approved, Eisenhower will probably stay at his holiday retreat until Jan. 3, working on his first messages to the new Congress and playing some golf.

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, announced today it has been decided to send the President's budget message to Congress Jan. 17 and follow with the economic report Jan. 20.

Messages Drafted
The President spent about 2½ hours this morning with Gabriel Hauge, his personal financial adviser, and Dr. Arthur F. Burns, chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers, working on the two messages.

Hauge and Burns will take the drafts back to Washington today for final revision.

Some other special messages to Congress are being drafted, Hagerty said, and details will be announced over the course of the next week if the President remains in Augusta.

Meanwhile an air of tension pervaded the presidential circle.

West German rearmament is an integral part of the administration's defense plan for Europe, and France's rejection of it, the White House has made clear, would be a bitter blow.

Premier Mendes-France, fighting for ratification, has demanded a vote of confidence on the issue. The French Parliament is expected to act sometimes today, with the government standing or falling on the result.

Last Friday the President said he considered the adverse vote in the Chamber of Deputies Friday—a provisional action—as of "the utmost seriousness to the free world."

A new White House statement reiterated this view Sunday and noted that Eisenhower had also "expressed the hope of our government that the vote would not represent the final French decision on the matter."

Cheboygan K. C. Building Burns

CHEBOYGAN (AP) — Fire swept the Knights of Columbus building in downtown Cheboygan Sunday night, causing an estimated $100,000 damage.

No one was injured in the blaze. Fire departments from Mackinac City and Indian River and the crew of the U. S. Coast Guard Cutter, were summoned to the scene.

Travis Ellis's condition was reported satisfactory at a Jasper hospital.

Michigan Democrats Plan Big Inauguration Celebration Saturday

LANSING (AP) — Jubilant Michigan Democrats put finishing touches today on plans for their "own" inauguration ceremonies on Saturday.

On that day, Jan. 1, Gov. Williams will take the oath of office for his fourth consecutive term and his team of five elective state officials will be sworn in also.

It will be the first Williams inaugural at which the Republicans do not hold numerical superiority. The only two elective Republican officials left take office at other times and will not participate in the official services.

At Williams' side to take the oath from Chief Justice Leland W. Carr of the State Supreme Court will be Lt. Gov. Philip A. Hart, Atty. Gen. Thomas M. Kavanaugh, State Treasurer Sanford Brown, Aud. Gen. Victor Targonski and Secretary of State James M. Hare.

The team will get off to an early start on inaugural day. Led by Gov. Williams it will have breakfast with Democratic county chairmen and state committee members. There will be a reception for party workers in the executive office at 9 a. m.

The oaths will be administered on the capitol steps soon after 11 a. m., preceded by a flight of F86

Sabrejet aircraft from the Michigan National Guard and followed by the governor's traditional 19-gun salute from National Guard guns.

New officials will stand in a public reception line from 2 to 3:30 p. m., in the executive office and in their own offices for the next hour.

The inaugural banquet will be held at 6:30 p. m., in the Masonic Temple. Rep. Ed Carey (D-Detroit) will be toastmaster.

The Young Democrat-sponsored Inaugural Ball will start at 8:30 p. m., in the Masonic Temple.

Bobby said he was trying to hook a ride and missed a handhold.

Minnesota Girl Flies Milk To French Premier

CHICAGO (AP) — An 18-year-old Minnesota farm girl, good will emissary of America's dairy industry, made ready to fly to New York today and thence to Paris Tuesday with 48 quarts of milk for Premier Mendes-France.

The milk, one quart from each state, and a milk dispensing machine for the Premier's office, is a gift from the American Dairy Assn. In appreciation for Mendes-France's efforts to promote milk drinking. It will be delivered by Eleanor Maley, who won a statewide contest for the honor.

The French Premier, however, faced a political crisis today which might cause his Cabinet to fall on the issue of German rearmament. Just who would get the milk if Mendes-France loses his premiership is an unanswered question.

Michigan Solon Wants U. S. To Cut Off Russia

NEW YORK (AP)—Rep. Alvin M. Bentley (R-Mich) wants the United States to sever its diplomatic relations with Soviet Russia and the Iron Curtain countries.

Bentley told a meeting of the Hungarian Catholic League of America Sunday night the move "would be one of the best steps which this government could take to reassert its position of moral leadership of the free world."

"The weapons of international morality are among the strongest which remain in our arsenal," Bentley said.

He questioned the value of using American embassies in Communist countries as "listening posts."

He said that on the basis of his personal knowledge as a foreign service officer between 1941 and 1950, he found their value "of extremely limited content."

Their maintenance, Bentley said, "can hardly compensate for the intense propaganda and espionage activities carried on in this country by Soviet diplomatic officers."

Bentley deplored what he called "the shameful treaties of Teheran, Yalta and Potsdam," and added: "It is my belief that the Soviets (U. S. S. R.) should be presented with an ultimatum to honor immediately the broken provisions of the treaties."

Should the ultimatum be rejected, especially in regard to Germany, Austria and Poland, he said, the United States would be justified in stating this nation no longer will honor the pacts.

Delayed To 3 P. M.
In the first vote of confidence scheduled for today, the deputies were asked to ratify the treaty in admitting West Germany to membership in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. The second vote was scheduled on three amendments, with the Premier demanding rejection of two which would delay ratification of the pacts but calling for approval of the third. The latter would require that all four treaties must be ratified before any of them can become effective.

Though it rejected the Western European Union pact on Friday, the Assembly at that session approved the treaty restoring West German sovereignty and also the French-German agreement on international control of the disputed Saar.

Party positions on today's votes could not be set until after Mendes-France addressed the deputies to plead for support.

There seemed little possibility of a vote before 3 p. m. (CST) and the proceedings may drag out even more.

Senator McCarthy Urges Blockade Of Goods To Red China

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) said Sunday the flow of goods from the free world to Communist China is steadily increasing and that he plans to intensify his campaign against it.

McCarthy said in an interview he plans to do "a lot of public speaking after the first of the year" to emphasize his contention that Red China should be blockaded—"not a naval blockade by U. S. warships," he added, "but a blockade brought about by cutting off aid to nations which do trade with the Reds."

Premier Risks His Government On Treaty Vote

PARIS (AP)—The French National Assembly returned today from its Christmas holiday to decide once more whether to approve German rearmament. This time harassed Premier Mendes-France staked the life of his six-month-old government on the outcome.

Fighting to secure ratification of all four of the Paris treaties, the Premier scheduled two votes of confidence for today's Assembly session.

If successful on those ballots, he was slated to demand that the Assembly reverse its refusal last Friday to ratify the treaty permitting West Germany to rearm as a member of the seven-nation Western European Union (WEU).

That, too, would be a question of confidence which under Assembly rules could not be voted on for 24 hours, probably Tuesday.

Small Margin Indicated
Defeat on any of the three votes would force the government to resign, plunging France into another of its numerous postwar Cabinet crises.

Observers declined to predict in advance of the Assembly session how the deputies would vote. But it appeared that at best Mendes-France could hope only for approval of rearmament by a small margin, and with many Assembly members abstaining from the ballot.

The whole future of the Western alliance and of France's position awaited the outcome of the Assembly votes. The British government, backed by the United States, has announced that West Germany will be rearmed regardless of the French action, and that final French rejection of the treaties will result in reconsideration of the British pledge last fall to keep troops on the European continent.

In Augusta, Ga., White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty announced that President Eisenhower would consider cutting short his Christmas holiday if French deputies refused to ratify the treaties.

City To Receive Detailed Offer From Power Co.

The Escanaba City Council will meet in special session at 7:30 p. m. Thursday to receive from the Upper Peninsula Power Company, Houghton, a detailed "proposition" which can be submitted to a vote of the citizens of Escanaba.

The meeting will be held in City Hall with Mayor Harlan Yelland presiding.

Previously the City Council received from the Upper Peninsula Power Company a proposed solution to the electric power shortage. The solution included the sale by the city of its electric distribution system to the Power Company for $1,000,000 and the construction in Escanaba of a power plant.

Mayor Yelland today said that he had come to the conclusion that more information must be spelled out before any agreement could be reached on a proposed contract between the city and the Power Company.

Under the city charter, the mayor noted, the city cannot sell or otherwise dispose of its electric utility "unless and except" a proposition for such purpose be approved by three-fifths of the electors voting thereon.

The "proposition" to be submitted to the people must of necessity contain the elements of a proposed contract, including an electric rate schedule, construction of a generating plant in the city, and also a right of franchise which must be voted on by the people, Mayor Yelland noted.

The "proposition" which may be submitted to the people for a vote should be complete and detailed and in its final form, the mayor added. In this way the people will have the opportunity to be fully informed as to the Power Company's offer, which they may be asked to accept or reject.

City Council has two other proposals to consider as solutions to the power shortage. One is to contract with Alger-Delta Co-operative Electric Association of Gladstone to purchase "excess" power wholesale for 10 years; and the other is to have the city construct a municipal electric generating plant.

Ferry Ends Season On Lake Charlevoix

CHARLEVOIX — The Ironton ferry, a short traffic route across southern Lake Charlevoix at Ironton, was halted for the season on Christmas Day. It was the earliest closing in recent years for the service.

T. B. Reynolds, county road commission engineer, said unseasonably cold weather has frozen the 500-foot channel traveled by the ferry. He said ferry traffic will be routed around the north side of the lake or on the southern shore via East Jordan.

The ferry normally ceases operations Jan. 1 and resumes in mid-April when the ice leaves the lake.

Deaf Girl Teaches Signs To Playmates

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (P)—When her family moved into a new neighborhood two years ago, Delores Schneider had a problem. How does an 8-year-old deaf-mute go about making friends and playing with the other children?

With a child's directness, Delores found the answer by teaching all the youngsters sign language.

Now there's hardly a child of her age in the neighborhood who can't hold his own in two-handed conversation.

Delores' two brothers, Joe, 15, and Eddie, 13, also have been deaf-mutes from birth but the eldest child, Mary Lou, 17, has normal hearing. So do Mr. and Mrs. Jim Schneider.

Total 1954 Taxes Are Slightly Lower Than Tax Bills Of 1953

DESPITE higher tax rates for county and school purposes, Escanaba taxpayers actually will pay a total tax bill slightly less for 1954 than they did in 1953.

This may come as somewhat of a surprise to many taxpayers who are currently studying their latest tax bill for county and school operation. This bill is higher than it was last year because the millage for both purposes has been increased.

This year the county gets 8.08 mills, or $8.08 for each $1,000 of assessed valuation, compared with 7.575 mills last year. The schools get 8.39 mills or $8.39 per $1,000 assessed valuation this year compared with 7.575 mills last year.

The school debt millage, however, has been reduced from 4.93 mills last year to 4.22 mills this year. The city taxes, levied last summer, were reduced from 15.69 mills in 1953 to 14.96 mills in 1954.

Thus, local taxpayers were assessed a total tax bill of 35.65 mills in 1954, or $35.65 per $1,000 valuation, as compared with 35.77 mills or $35.77 per $1,000 valuation in 1953.

The increase in the county tax was the result of an increase in allocation to the county by the tax allocation board. The school tax increase resulted because of the use of the state equalized valuation in assessments for school purposes.

Taxpayers in Escanaba and Delta County can expect a further tax boost in 1955, however, because of the Supreme Court decision requiring the use of the state assessed valuation for governmental purposes. This will result in a higher tax rate for county purposes. Presumably the City of Escanaba may continue to levy local taxes on the old valuations if it desires.

NEW POLICY AT POWERS
(Menominee Herald-Leader)

The State requires the hospitalization of the tubercular and pays for their care if they do not have means for it; which most don't. The State assumes the burden of care of the tubercular because if they are not cared for they are a menace to the healthy population, tuberculosis being contagious. Even where a TB sanatorium is operated by several counties, as with Pinecrest Sanatorium at Powers, which is owned by Menominee, Delta, Dickinson and Iron counties, the chief source of income is from the State fees for care of patients.

The meeting here this week of the board of the Delta-Menominee Health Department revealed while the State will care for patients in approved sanatoria, it will not pay for the care of out-patients. These are patients who must go to the sanatorium regularly for treatment, but who need not stay there. Such patients, of course, are much less financial burden to the State than are the patients domiciled in the sanatoria. But their status leaves them without State aid or other aid to pay for their medication. It is a penny-wise and pound-foolish course to deny to out-patients (who represent progress in public economizing as well as in medical conquest of tuberculosis) the State aid given to their more costly fellow-sufferers in State supported hospitals.

Dr. William C. Harrison, head of the Delta-Menominee Health Department asked the board to consider furnishing weekly injections of the antibiotic drug streptomycin for out-patients. It should be furnished and the State should amend its tuberculosis control program to provide aid for out-patients in this advanced era of TB care. The State saves $4 a day as every TB out-patient and there are 18 of them in Menominee County today.

The Doctor Says...
Use Cream, Avoid Sunlight
If You're Cold-Sore Victim

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D. — Written for NEA Service

"I am plagued with cold sores on my nostrils and seem to get them once a month," a correspondent complains. "I have tried all sorts of remedies but nothing seems to help. Any suggestions?"

This problem of recurring cold sores is by no means unusual around the nostrils or the lips. Although this troublesome condition is mostly likely to develop when someone has an infection like pneumonia or is run down physically some people in apparently excellent health have recurring trouble without any apparent reason.

THE MEDICAL NAME for a cold sore is herpes simplex. The cause is a virus. This virus is a living organism which also can produce a reaction in susceptible animals, especially rabbits.

It is difficult to know why herpes behaves as it does. One would expect that it would be contracted only from another person who harbors the virus. Actually it does not seem to be highly contagious but comes mostly when the resistance is weakened by any one of several causes, including infectious diseases, artificial fever treatments, certain vaccinations and over-exposure to the sun. One likely explanation is that the virus remains in the tissues and becomes active whenever the resistance to it is lowered.

Today And Tomorrow

By WALTER LIPPMANN

It is an important sign of the times that in Indo-China, which is now just about the most vulnerable region in the non-Communist world, a reduction of military forces has been decided upon. The French Expeditionary Army is being withdrawn gradually. The Vietnamese army is to be reduced by almost half from its present force level of 170,000 men. And the United States is intending to reduce still further the ground forces in being available for local wars.

This reduction of armaments is taking place at a time when the non-Communist government, which we are supporting, is losing power and influence against the infiltration and the pressure of Ho Chi Minh's revolutionary underground. We would be deceiving ourselves if we supposed that the reduction of ground forces in Indo-China is, or that it can be, compensated by an increase in the naval and air forces assigned to that part of the world.

The essence of the problem is that Indo-China is not being invaded by a Chinese army much less by a Soviet army. It is being infiltrated and subverted from village to village by native Indo-Chinese revolutionists. The French army has been unable to suppress them, and it is plain that these guerrilla forces in the villages cannot be conquered with airplanes and bombs. We are facing the fact that the revolutionary movement in Indo-China is not the kind of organized military forces which military power of the Western type is fitted to deal with. Our military quandary is a little as if we equipped the local police with tanks and then ordered them to suppress juvenile delinquency and racketeering. Nobody would doubt that the weapon was powerful but no one could deny that it was unsuited to the situation.

GOVERNMENT WEAK

We are reducing Western military power in Indo-China and also the native forces that the West has been training and equipping. We are doing this because these forces cannot be used effectively against the revolutionary movement. Why not? Because the non-Communist government in Saigon is weak. It does not have popular support and it is unable to make the decisions, and to take the measures which might win popular support. It is too weak to use substantial economic aid. A people which is in a state of civil war can, however, be rallied only by a strong government.

In the old days the great powers solved the problem of weak local governments, which threatened to fall into the orbit of a rival power, by intervening with their own forces. That was the old answer to what we now call the problem of subversion and indirect aggression. But that solution is ruled out in Southeast Asia. The French spent seven years of horrid fighting attempting to impose it. When we came actively into the picture, one of the first things we insisted upon was the grant of sovereign independence to the Vietnamese state. Now that Vietnam is sovereign, Western military power cannot be used to make it a government strong enough to cope with Ho Chi Minh's revolutionists.

In deciding for a reduction of the military forces on the ground, we are recognizing it as one of the facts of life that while military power can contain the Chinese army and the Soviet armed forces, it cannot contain a native revolution. Does it follow that we are resigning ourselves to the "loss" of Indo-China, and after that, of Southeast Asia?

A "GRAY" AREA?

I do not think that it does follow. I do not mean that the loss cannot happen, or that it will not happen, but only that it is not necessary. We are much too ready to see the issue in terms of black or white: either the country will become a satellite or it must be, like South Korea under Dr. Rhee and Formosa under Chiang, irreconcilable and militant. But in real life black or white are not the only practical possibilities. A large part of humanity is neither black nor white but gray, unwilling and unable to let the issue be drawn too sharply.

My guess is that the best we can look forward to for Indo-China is that it will become a gray area—like Burma, like Indonesia, like, if you please, Finland. The non-Communist world will be doing very well indeed, better than it has had much reason to believe it would do, if the outcome in Indo-China is a government which manages not to be a satellite of Peking. The West would be witnessing a brilliant outcome, given the hard realities of the situation, if Indo-China—avoiding hostility towards Red China—found its international place in the orbit of India.

A policy conceived in this fashion is compatible with the decision to reduce the French and the Vietnamese forces in Indo-China and to reduce our own standing army. If this, or something very like it, is not what we have in mind, what do we mean by a reduction of armaments in the face of a worsening situation?

Politicians take the simple way out when they're in the dark—simply cloud the issue.

Into The Past

10 YEARS AGO

Escanaba—Many homes in this area were saddened by news that Germany, in a last desperate thrust into Belgium had taken 13,000 Allied prisoners, most of whom were Americans. Many local boys were known to be with forces occupying the sector. (This thrust came to be known as the Battle of the Bulge.)

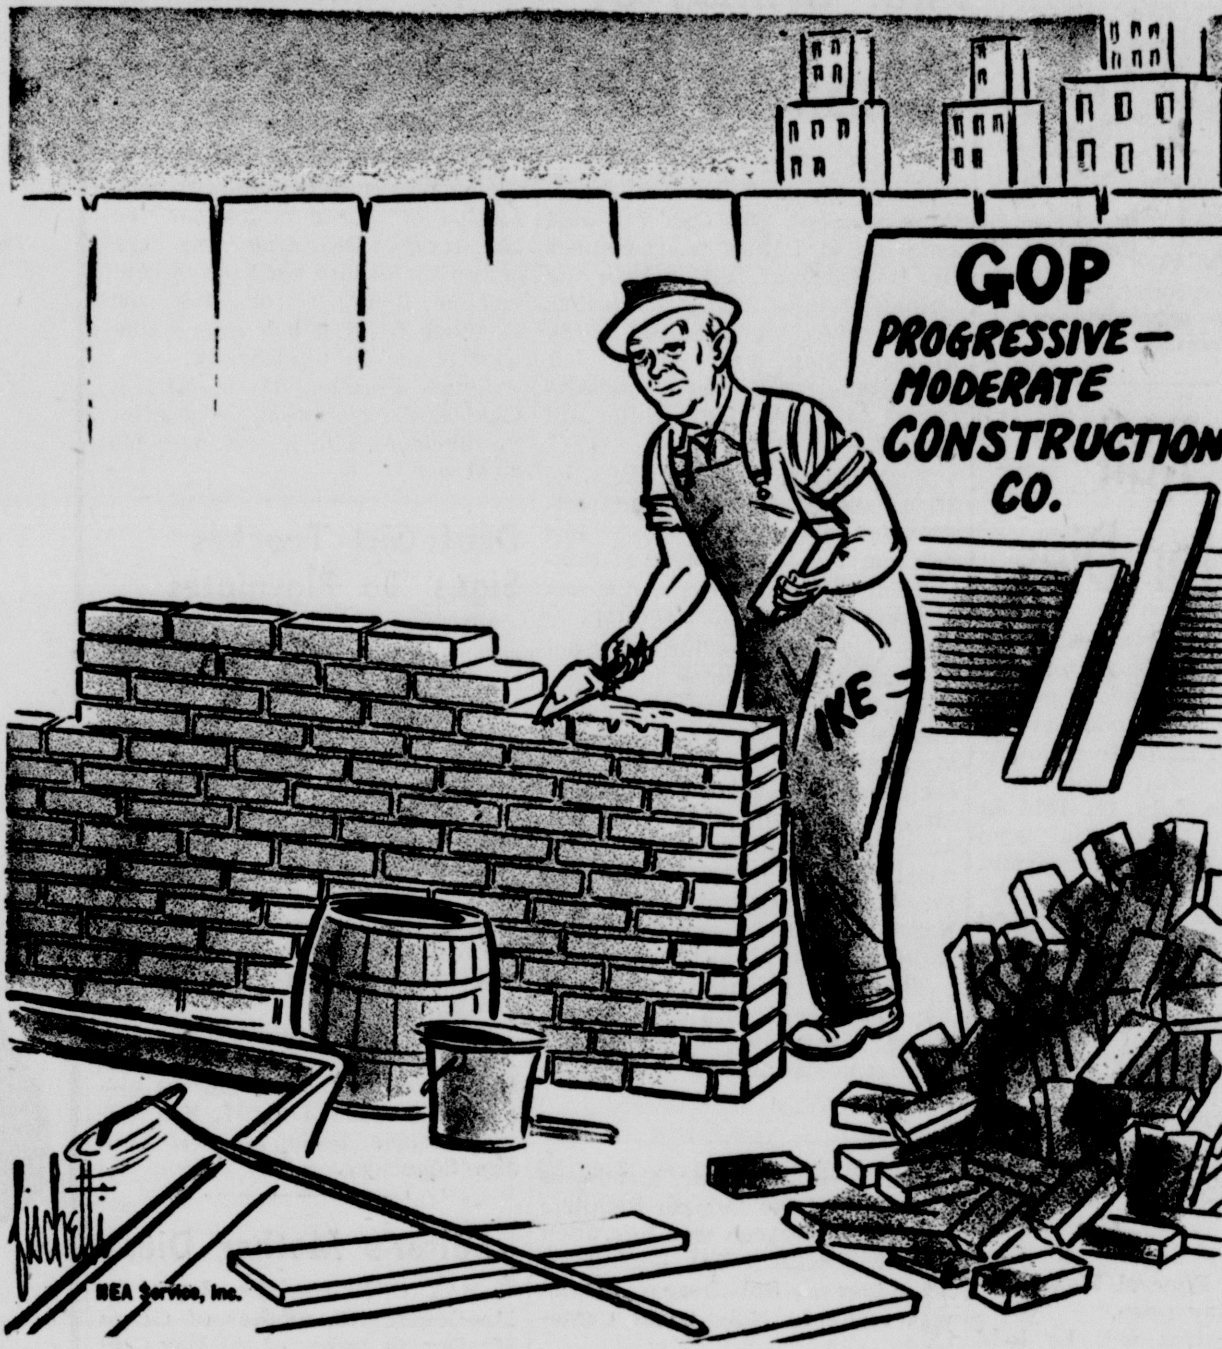

Escanaba—Cigar making is enjoying a boom, according to John Kahlow, 84, veteran Escanaba cigar maker, who has been making cigars for the past 40 years. The shortage of cigarettes is said to be responsible for the boom.

Manistique—The local youth center known as the "Teen-Canteen," will be self governing. A full set of officers, pledged to maintain and enforce rules of conduct, has been elected. Enyle MaMourie has been elected president.

20 YEARS AGO

Escanaba—Edwin Bergman, Bark River farmer, has been recommended to the county board as choice for county agricultural agent to succeed the late J. E. Turner.

Dag Hammarskjold Unenvied On His Mission To Red China

By LEONARD RUPPERT

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y.—(NEA)—As he sets out for Communist China to try to win the release of 11 imprisoned American fliers, a slim Swede with a jaw-breaking name—United Nations Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold—is a very unenvied man.

Veteran diplomats are aware that he faces an awesome challenge which could strongly affect the UN's future. Some have said that his trip is a blunder, which only can add to the Reds' prestige. They fear that the Communies will try every trick to come off with a cheap propaganda triumph.

Those who predict success make up a small minority. But on one point most are agreed: if the visit had to be made, Hammarskjold is an ideal envoy. The UN and West can be sure that he'll give the mission his all.

Shrewd, determined, patient, he's a brilliant career public servant who believes in the United Nations as the world's only hope for peace.

"The UN," he once declared, "is a mold that keeps the hot metal from spilling over."

Keeping the mold from cracking has been Hammarskjold's personal goal since 1953. It was then that he was named successor to Trygve Lie, breaking a five-month deadlock caused by Lie's resignation. His name was approved unanimously.

The first reaction from delegates was, "Who in blazes is Hammarskjold?" Except for the Scandinavians, no one knew much about him.

A frantic scouring of records turned up the information that he came from an old Swedish family noted for public service.

His illustrious father, Hjalmar, was World War I Prime Minister who championed neutralism. A brother had sat as a judge at the Court of International Justice. And the family traced its nobility to a 17th Century warrior whom the king had knighted for bravery.

Dag himself, though a mere 47, was a Deputy Foreign Minister, known for his nimble debating and rumored to be an aloof mental giant.

He had taught economics at Stockholm U., was chairman of the board of the Bank of Sweden, had been Under Secretary of Finance, had spoken for Sweden at big economic meetings, and briefly headed its delegation to the UN General Assembly.

While delegates pondered his background, the incoming Secretary General was advising confused reporters how to cope with his lengthy name. (Between the Dag and the Hammarskjold go Hjalmar, Agne and Carl.)

"The best thing to do," he advised, "is to call me just Hammer-shield. That is, after all, about as near as most people get, and anyway it's exactly what my name means in English."

The first name, he said, could be rhymed with "bag."

As soon as he got to New York, the "aloofness" rumor was spiked. He ate in the cafeteria, minus aides and photographers. He dropped in at every department and shook about 4000 hands. And he ordered department heads to learn more about their subordi-

DAG HAMMARSKJOLD: A realist who pricks balloons.

In the 20 months since, he has won both friends and respect. He has never failed to remember that the UN chose him for one basic reason: he came from a neutral country. He told it in his acceptance speech, "I am here to serve you all"—and has tried to keep it that way.

Up to the present, at least, he has made only two big mistakes, both of them painfully personal.

On his first day in New York, he let it be known to reporters that his hobby was mountain climbing. Then he added the knowledge that he liked to read high-brow books—especially poetry volumes.

He's been pictured in print ever since as a mountain-scaling ascetic, with a slice of dry bread in one hand and a book of poems in the other.

"That isn't I," he once complained. "That is a caricature. Everywhere I go—mountains, mountains, and T. S. Eliot is all that I ever hear. Believe me, I am sick of mountain and poetry talk."

Appearance-wise, he is 5-feet-10 and slight, a pink-cheeked, blue-eyed blond, fastidious in his tastes. He lives alone in a well-furnished suite, lined with paintings by modern artists. When there's time for recreation, he usually slips away to an undisclosed spot in the country.

Diplomats often describe him as a "degonfleur des projects"—a realist who pricks balloons. And as far back as his college days, he was called "the ideal public servant."

The description favored by Hammarskjold, though, is "economic technician."

The problems he deals with always are touchy. His only predecessor, Lie, once summed up the position as "the world's most impossible job."

Hammarskjold's view of the office is summed up this way:

"Take a divorce case, where both parties are dealing with the same mediator, a judge, a marital expert, who knows both sides of the story—the fears and suspicions and hurts of both sides. If he uses his information, his understanding, he can make the parties see each other better—more clearly, with more insight."

"Is not that possible?"

During the next few weeks, he and millions of others may learn the important answer.

Obscure To 'Outside' Penal Press Goes To Million Readers

By NEIL McCONLOGUE

JACKSON, Mich. (NEA)—One of the oddest off-shoots of modern publishing is the so-called Penal Press.

For the most part unknown, this loosely-knit enterprise has a membership approaching 200 units, published regularly in United States and Canadian correctional institutions.

Whether mimeographed on cheap newsprint, or presented in slick, multicolored editions, each one speaks for the prison inmate and occasionally for the administration.

Mainly, prison journals are worked up by male lawbreakers. However, women prisoners also publish such papers, turning out copy as lively if not livelier reading matter than their male counterparts.

A good deal of penal publication copy concerns "campus" and cellblock news. Occasionally, however, this Fourth Estate fringe minority puts into focus ideas which deserve serious attention and which don't get attention elsewhere.

Today, in these publications, censorship is less rigid than it once was. They can speak out on matters hoped to allay any erroneous impressions or confirm conditions pertaining to bad court practices and faulty prison conditions.

Penal press staffs are almost entirely untrained. And usually the mechanical equipment is out of style and pretty badly worn.

For the most part, the prison pays the way for its publication. In Michigan, however, The Spectator, a newsweekly tabloid, has been supported financially for the past 25 years by the Inmate Fund—profits accrued through sales of certain articles sold in the prison's Inmate Store.

Generally, prison publications are tied to a prison's educational department and are considered as aiding inmate rehabilitation as well as keeping the inmate personnel up on happenings inside and outside prison.

The prison publications have been a sometimes major source in alerting the public on prison events.

Edson In Washington

(NEA Washington Correspondent)

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Sen. Arthur V. Watkins (R., Utah), stern chairman of the special committee which investigated the censure charges against Joe McCarthy, explains the embarrassing decision which McCarthy would have had to make on appearing before the old Gillette election committee, investigating his financial operations.

If he had gone before the Gillette committee, Senator Watkins pointed out, he would have been sworn and would have been confronted by some 400 or 500 photostatic copies of bank records and other exhibits.

"If he had denied them, and if his denial were not true, he would have faced a possible perjury charge," said Watkins.

"If he had looked at them and had admitted that they were true, probably he would have been in difficulty again . . .

"If he did not want to deny the documents or admit them, he would have had to do one of the most humiliating things which the junior senator from Wisconsin could have been required to do, and that was to have claimed protection under the Fifth Amendment."

GOV. FRANK G. CLEMENT of Tennessee took considerable of a ribbing on his recent visit to Washington. Being only 34, and the youngest U. S. governor, he has been mentioned as a possible Democratic candidate for the vice presidency in 1956. After delivering a wind-jamming oration at the National Press Club, the governor was asked if he would be a candidate for that office.

He went into the routine answer. He had just been elected Tennessee's first four-year-term governor by an overwhelming majority. He felt he had a job to do in his state. Nineteen fifty-six was a long time away. He was not seeking any other public office. But he was a servant of the people, and so on.

Following this dissertation, Press Club President Tony Vaccaro, who comes from Tennessee himself, commented with a completely dead pan:

"That's exactly what I said when I decided to run for the presidency of the Press Club."

A CALLER DROPPED into the offices of the British Information Service here to inquire what the postage was from England to the United States.

Charles Campbell, head of the office, who has been in the U. S. so long that he sometimes is accused of knowing more about America than many Americans, replied that he wasn't sure, but he thought it was "thrupence." He called to one of his secretaries for confirmation.

"That's right," she answered. "It's the same to all the colonies."

THE AMERICAN PEOPLE spend more money on gambling—more, even, than they spend on crime and many other things, according to a compilation just made by the Methodist Board of Temperance.

It shows that for the year 1953, gambling headed the list for a total cost of $21 billion. Crime was a close second at $20 billion. Education was third at just under $12 billion.

Meat was fourth at a little under $11 billion—a billion dollars more than was spent for alcoholic beverages, which ranked fifth. Sixth was milk and dairy products at $9 billion.

Religious and welfare activities ranked twelfth with expenditures of $3 billion. The one encouraging figure in the tabulation is that religious and welfare expenditures were double the amount spent on either soft drinks, jewelry or motion pictures.

TREASURY Secretary George M. Humphrey had to make a sleeper plane hop into Peru recently. Next morning he felt his way into the washroom after a not-too-good night's sleep. He opened his toilet kit and then muttered softly. He had forgotten or lost his hairbrush.

He turned to his assistant, Nils Lennartson, also in the washroom, and apologetically asked if he could borrow a hairbrush.

"I don't have a brush," said the thick-thatched Lennartson, "but you're welcome to use my comb."

The secretary's hand went slowly to his balding pate, and a big grin spread over his face. "You know," he said, "that's the nicest thing that's been said to me on this whole trip."

DEFENSE Secretary Charles E. Wilson apologized for scheduling a press conference on short notice the other day. He said it was a bad day for a press conference, and was immediately asked "Why?"

"Because there are so many things you can ask me about that I am not ready to talk about," he explained.

Sleeping Giant Of Peninsula Copper Industry Is Awakened

By GEORGE L. WALKER
 LANSING (AP)—Michigan's copper industry, a sleeping giant for the past three decades, shows signs of an awakening.
 From the tip of the Keweenaw Peninsula to the Wisconsin border there is a new note of hope that the mining of copper sulphide and the opening of abandoned shafts will bring back the gaudy days of the copper boom.
 This hope is found largely on the White Pine mine in Ontonagon County and the Osceola Mine near Calumet, both of which are being closely watched by industry and government geologists.
Pumping Slow Process
 The Osceola mine was abandoned in 1931 when copper prices sank. Left to flood, the shaft is now being pumped out — a slow process of draining out some seven billion gallons of water.
 When the work is done, geologists of the Calumet and Hecla Mining Co., expect to see some 14 million pounds of copper a year leaving the mouth of the long-idle mine.
 Far more spectacular and promising than the Osceola venture is the White Pine Mine, a brand new outpost of industry hewn out of the wilderness east of the Porcupine Mountains.

 "The White Pine Mine may open up new avenues of development," says H. H. Hardenberg, mining geologist for the State Conservation Department.
 "The mine is the first attempt in Michigan to exploit copper sulphide commercially," he says. "Most of the world's supply comes from copper sulphide, but Michigan's industry—until now — has been restricted to the mining of native copper."
 When copper sulphide is mined, the ore is ground into a fine powder. Through a process of "flotation," using large quantities of water, the copper is separated from the rock.
Production In 1955
 The White Pine Mine — backed by a 63 million dollar government loan — is nearing completion. It includes a giant mill, smelter, administrative buildings, workers' houses and a hospital.
 "The White Pine company hopes to have the mine in full production by the middle of 1955," says Hardenberg. "Their goal is to produce 75 million pounds of copper a year."

 The U. S. Geological Survey has completed a study of the Keweenaw area and found that sulphide-bearing formations cover a strip from Houghton to beyond the Wisconsin border, and run several miles inland from the Lake Superior shore.
 In watching the White Pine development, says Hardenberg, the big question will be: Can copper be taken from the earth at a cost reasonably below the market price of the metal?
 That question has been the central problem of the Copper Country. At one time, the state produced slightly under 270 million pounds of copper in 1916 — the peak year of the industry. Last year it produced 48 million pounds.
 The dismal sight of abandoned shafts dotting the Keweenaw landscape signaled the death of the copper era.
 Hope is running high in the Upper Peninsula that a new smoke stack towering above the White Pine wilderness and the sound of pumps from the Osceola mine may herald the birth of new prosperity.

Lansing Mother, 38, Has Baby Boy She Wasn't Expecting
 LANSING, Mich. (AP)—A 5-pound 8-ounce boy was born Thursday to a Lansing woman who said she didn't even know she was pregnant.
 Mrs. Martha Johnson, 38, gave birth to the baby at her home. Her husband, Miles, an employee of the U. S. Weather Bureau at East Lansing, said the birth was a complete surprise to him too.
 Dr. Frank L. Bevis was called to the home after the husband and wife completed delivery. Mother and son are both doing well, he said.
 Dr. Bevis said Mrs. Johnson told him she had noticed she was putting on a little weight and went on a milk diet. But she said she hadn't consulted a doctor.

 Hospital physicians said the infant appeared to be a full-term baby and apparently was "carried high." The couple have another son, 13.
Bond Savings Gain
 DETROIT (AP)—Delmar V. Cote, state director of the United States Treasury Department's Michigan division, said Thursday that Michigan residents increased their investments in U. S. Savings Bonds 8 per cent in 1954. The 1954 investments in Michigan brought the state's accumulative bond investment total to 290 million dollars.

Order Hearing On Power Rate

LANSING (AP)—The State Public Service Commission, overriding objections of the City of Escanaba, took jurisdiction in a petition filed by the Upper Michigan Power and Light Company, to raise electric rates in Escanaba.

The Commission ordered a hearing held Feb. 15.

The action was brought by the Upper Michigan Power and Light Company as suppliers of electricity to the city under a wholesale power contract which does not expire until Aug. 1, 1959.

It is the contention of the Power Company that the contract with the city is invalid; while the city's position is that the contract is valid and that the Public Service Commission does not have jurisdiction to change the contract rates under which the city purchases power.

The city purchases power wholesale and distributes it to consumers through a municipally-owned system.

Upper Michigan Power and Light Company contends it is losing money annually in supplying the city with power at the present rate.

Field And Wife Stay In Hungary

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP)—Hungary announced Noel and Herta Field have won political asylum in this Communist country, which imprisoned them for five years as spies.

This latest development in the fate of the American couple—central figures in one of the cold war's greatest international mysteries—was disclosed in a communique from the official Hungarian news service. It said:

"Noel H. Field and his wife, Herta K. Field, American citizens, asked for political asylum from the government of the Hungarian people's republic. The Hungarian government has granted the asylum."

American diplomats had no advance word. They learned the news from correspondents.

"I really cannot comment—what could I say?" said a spokesman for the American legation in the absence of U. S. Minister Christian M. Ravndal, who is on leave.

Field, a former U. S. State Department official, and his German-born wife were released Nov. 17 after serving five years in Hungarian prisons on spy charges.

American diplomats in Budapest have seen them only once—24 hours after the Hungarian government announced they were freed and all charges against them dropped.

The two Americans then entered a Budapest hospital for treatment. They asked to remain in complete privacy. The U. S. legation said it did not know the Fields' exact whereabouts or plans. The couple made no move to apply for new passports or renewal of their old ones.

Wild Winds Whip Southern California

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Winds up to 70 miles an hour whipped southern California today, toppling power lines and billboards and slowing traffic.

As the winds rose, humidity dropped and the Los Angeles fire department described the fire hazard as "really dangerous."

A 2½ million dollar blaze burned through the Fullerton citrus warehouse district.

The 70-mile-an-hour blasts were recorded at Ontario. The wind whistling west from the desert virtually stalled traffic on highways in the Beaumont-Banning area. Gales lashed Cajon Pass and upper canyons of the San Bernardino and San Gabriel mountains.

Wind velocity was expected to increase.

Besides Van Fossom, others on the staff whose jobs are reportedly in jeopardy include: Robert L. Kunzig, chief committee counsel under the Republicans; Raphael I. Nixon, director of research; and Chief Clerk Thomas W. Beale Sr. Each of these jobs pays about $11,600 a year.

Armless Baby, 2, Handy With Toes

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—It doesn't take two arms and two legs for an inquisitive youngster to find out what surprises Santa Claus has in store.

Louise, the Waxahachie, Tex., baby born without arms and abandoned by her real parents, is doing all right with 10 nimble toes.

Hardly had she finished with her first birthday party—she was 2 last Friday—than she began exploring for the gift-wrapped parcels hidden in the home of her adopted parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Capps, of Seagoville, near here. She uses her nimble, sensitive toes as another child would fingers.

Before Mrs. Capps knew what was happening, Louise had found her No. 1 Christmas present—a big doll with dark hair and black eyes like Louise. Since then doll and girl can't be separated.

Though Louise began life with a dark future, she now has loving parents and security. The Capps own a prosperous chicken farm. Louise is the legal owner of 200 healthy hens, whose eggs will produce an estimated $7,000 in cash for her by the time she is 10.

Louise has many friends throughout the nation who want to help her. One friend, Col. Wesley W. Price, an Astoria, Ore., retired Army officer, sent a musical rocking chair that plays "Rockaby Baby" as a Christmas gift.

But Louise found that too. Now she spends much of her time rocking her Christmas doll in her Christmas rocker.

Geraldine Nichol, Paul Davidson Exchange Vows

A waltz length gown of white tulle and Chantilly lace over gleaming white satin was worn by Miss Geraldine Shirley Nichol, 1417 9th Ave. S., for her marriage Sunday, Dec. 26, to Paul Howard Davidson 709 S. 14th St.

The molded bodice, form fitting of lace, was fashioned with long, lace sleeves and a V neckline outlined with a fold of pleated tulle. The bouffant skirt billowed from the small waistline over several layers of net, the two top layers designed with handkerchief points. A band of matching lace encircled the skirt. Her four tiered veil of imported French tulle, detailed with baby pearls and white sequins, was caught to a shell cap of matching lace. Tear drops of pearls augmented the cap. She carried a bouquet of red poinsettias with feathered white mums, edged with green holly.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Chester H. Nichol, 1417 9th Ave. S., while the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. James S. Davidson, 709 S. 14th St.

Double Ring Service
Rev. David Buzza, Menominee, performed the double ring nuptial ceremony at 7 a. m. at the First Presbyterian Church before an altar adorned with red poinsettias, a Christmas tree, fir boughs and lighted tapers. During the service, Miss Nancy Ostman, soloist, sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer". The traditional wedding procession and recessional were played by Mrs. F. M. Fernstrom, organist.

Identical waltz length gowns of hunter green and Nile green were worn by the maid of honor, Miss Kay Colvin, and bridesmaid, Miss Jane Harrison. The gowns were styled with bouffant skirts, with handkerchief points, and matching Nile green jackets. A Nile green net skirt was worn over hunter green by the maid of honor. They wore headpieces of white feathered mums and red berries and carried bouquets of feathered white mums, green holly and red berries.

Twin Attendants
Twin brothers of the bridegroom and bride, Allen Davidson and Gerald Nichol, acted as best man and groomsmen, respectively. Ushering the guests to their seats were John Trotter and William Peltier.

Mrs. Nichol attended her daughter's wedding attired in a dress of black velvet with winter white accessories. Her corsage was fashioned of red roses. The bridegroom's mother wore a black dress with blue accessories, complemented by a corsage of pink roses.

Following the ceremony, a wedding reception was held at Westminster Hall of the church. Assisting in the serving were Miss Ruth Hansen, cutting the cake, Miss Barbara Jensen and Miss Joan Jensen, pouring, Miss Mary Ann Viitala, punch bowl and Miss Carol Beggs attending the guest book.

Reside at St. Ignace
When the newlyweds departed for a honeymoon at an undisclosed destination, the bride wore a knit dress of avocado green with black accessories. Her corsage was fashioned of red carnations. The new Mr. and Mrs. Davidson will reside at St. Ignace, where the bridegroom is with the Conservation Department.

Both are graduates of Escanaba Senior High School. The bride was employed by the First National Bank while the bridegroom attended Michigan College of Mining and Technology.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Tony Fittante, Ishpeming; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Slattery, Menominee; Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Moore and Gordon Moore, Manistique; Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Peterson, Ketchikan, Alaska; Mr. and Mrs. David Laakso, Merrill Mich.; and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Stadel LaCrosse Wis.

TOO GREEDY

When the bidding has clearly revealed the fact that declarer's hand is a "freak," particular care must be put into the defense, and it is an excellent idea to look for the setting trick before trying to "slaughter" the contract. Here's a case in point:

Inasmuch as West could have made his four-spade bid. South showed good judgment in going on to five hearts. If he had passed for his partner's decision, North might have elected to try for the defeat of the enemy.

West, feeling that he might easily get in a diamond ruff, opened his blank ace, but when the dummy was spread he hastily shifted to the queen of clubs. South took the trick and led a low trump. East won and could have cashed the club king for the setting trick, but he apparently had "visions of wealth," and so returned a low diamond.

South, astonished but very pleased over developments, ruffed the diamond high, led a trump to the ten in dummy, and "pushed" the diamond queen through East. Now there was no defense. East could cover or not, as he chose; South was sure to ruff out the diamond king, draw East's remaining trump, and claim the rest with the ace of spades and good diamonds—he didn't even have to risk the spade finesse.

If East had simply laid down the club king for a sure though modest victory, his side would have collected 200 points. Instead, North-South collected 850 points—which is a substantial "swing" under any circumstances!

Creamed Oysters Perfect For New Year's Eve Supper

CREAMED OYSTERS on toast points is a perfect New Year's Eve supper party dish.

BY GAYNOR MADDOX

NEA Food and Markets Editor

Agnes Davis, concert singer and teacher of voice at Indiana University, is noted for her gourmet suppers. Her special New Year's Eve menu deserves hearing about.

Supper starts with a delicious chafing-dish specialty of creamed oysters with crisp celery, subtly flavored with aromatic bitters. Easy to make, too, top-of-stove. Serve the aromatic concoction over toast points. Then comes a tossed salad, dressed with oil and wine vinegar. Little, hot, buttered biscuits make a nice accompaniment.

While staying abroad, Miss Davis adopted the European habit of fresh fruit for dessert with Italian espresso coffee. For New Year's, she combines several kinds of fresh fruit in a compote, and adds a few dashes of bitters. Little cups of steaming and fragrant double-roast demitasse coffee follow, served in the continental manner—with sugar, and a twist of lemon peel.

Creamed Oysters Angostura

(Yield: 8 servings)

One-half cup butter or margarine, 1/2 cup flour, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon paprika, 3 cups milk, 1 teaspoon aromatic bitters, 4 dozen oysters, 1/2 cup diced celery, toast points. Melt butter or margarine, and stir in flour, salt and paprika. Add milk gradually, while stirring over low heat until sauce thickens. Stir in bitters. Add oysters and celery and cook over low heat just until edges of oysters curl. Serve with toast points.

NEW YEAR'S EVE BUFFET:
Creamed oysters on toast points, tossed green salad, hot buttered biscuits, fresh fruit compote, Italian-style coffee.

New Sheriff Takes Office Here Saturday

A new sheriff for Schoolcraft county, Lloyd E. Gray, will take office Saturday.

A city police officer here for the past 7½ years, Gray, was elected on the Democratic ticket Nov. 2. He is a graduate of Cooks high school.

The move for Mrs. Hewitt climaxes 15 years of work at the county sheriff's office. Her husband, who first was elected in 1927, served a total of 19 years as sheriff, from 1927 to 1935, 1939 to 1946 and from 1953 until his death. He also filled an unexpired term for his son, Howard, from April 10, 1951 to Dec. 31, 1952.

Gray has already taken his oath of office and has filed bonds with the county clerk.

The program here has been endorsed and requested by the Lions club, Livemore said.

Commission To Meet Tonight

The possibility of appointing a Justice of Peace to fill the unexpired term of Oliver C. Estenson, resigned, will be considered at a regular meeting of the city commission this evening at 7:30 in the city hall.

Also a matter for discussion will be a model ordinance on comic books received from the National Association of Law Enforcement Officers. A request for action to eliminate objectionable comics was made to the commission recently by the Eighth Grade Sodality of All Saints School.

Browns Crush Lions 56-10

Graham Shines In Final Game

By JERRY LISK

CLEVELAND (P)—The Cleveland Browns today owned a rare second National Football League title after an astounding 56-10 dethroning of the Detroit Lions which proved: 1. Cleveland's "retiring" quarterback, Otto Graham, showed enough voltage at 33 — three touchdowns passes and three scoring smashes — to warrant doubt he will quit pro ball as he says. 2. That you can't believe what you see on the TV screen the game-turning play favored the Browns after what appeared a neutralizing double-infraction on TV. 3. That the same two teams playing in the same city on successive Sundays won't kill your crowd, 43,827 appeared — 20,000 buying at the game. 4. That statistics are little white lies (the Browns had only a slight edge over the two-time league champion Lions).

Perfect Weather

There was much of the fantastic about Paul Brown's tremendous crushing of a Detroit jinx in yesterday's game, played under perfect (for Dec. 26) weather conditions. It ended a Lion quest for an unprecedented third straight NFL title.

FACTS, FIGURES

CLEVELAND (P)—Facts and figures of the Lions-Browns pro championship game Sunday: Paid attendance, 43,827. Gross receipts, $299,126.43; radio and TV, $101,250; net receipts, $263,606.07. Total players pool (70 per cent of net), $184,524.25. Winning players pool (40 shares), $99,643.10. Losing players pool (41½ shares), $66,428.73. Each winning player's share, $2,478.57. Each losing player's share, $1,585.63.

The Browns won their first triumphs in nine starts against a Buddy Parker-coached Lion team, but the runaway didn't develop until after a first quarter tie-changer which puzzled TV viewers.

This came, with Detroit ahead 3-0 on Doak Walker's field goal. Cleveland's punter was roughed on the same play in which Detroit's receiver apparently signaled for a fair catch then was clobbered deep in Lion territory.

The Brown punter, Horace Gilom, was racked up by Lion guard Harley Sewell, just after lofting a fourth-down punt to Detroit's Jug Girard. After signaling a fair catch, Girard moved three strides to his right and did not have control of the ball when he was smacked down.

Girard Muffed Ball

What the TV audience never learned was that officials ruled Girard, "muffing the ball," never had enough control to warrant infraction of the fair-catch rule. That left the roughing-the-punter violation standing alone, instead of being wiped out in a double penalty.

So Cleveland got a first down on Detroit's 35 and two plays later, Graham hurled a 37-yard touchdown pass to speedy Ray Renfro. That was the game's turning point. The Browns took a 7-3 lead and steadily enlarged it.

Detroit's Bobby Layne for the first time in the Lion-Brown rivalry compared poorly with Graham. Layne had six passes intercepted, and every break went against him.

Statistically, the Browns out-rushed Detroit by a scant 140 to 136 yards, and in passing the Lions were ahead, 195 to 163. But what the figures didn't tell was how Graham outwitted and outmaneuvered the Lions.

Seis Records

Passing twice to Renfro and once to Pete Brewster for touchdowns, and in smashing over from the 5-yard line and 2 and 1-foot lines, Graham set three playoff marks. Graham's three touchdowns set title-game scoring marks with 18 points, most six-pointers and most touchdowns by running.

After the six touchdowns Graham either passed or carried, the Browns produced a 12-yard touchdown run by Curly Morrison and a 10-yard scoring scamper by Chet Hanulak.

Lou (The Toe) Groza of Cleveland made eight conversions.

Syracuse Back In First Place

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Syracuse Nations were back in first place today in the topsy-turvy Eastern Division race of the National Basketball Assn.

The Nats began the weekend in the top spot, but relinquished their position when they dropped a 109-101 decision to the Knicks at New York Saturday night. Sunday night they regained the lead at Syracuse with a 97-92 overtime victory over the New Yorkers.

Both contenders for eastern honors are anxious to be in first place as of January 1st. The coach of the team leading the division at that time will coach the Eastern Division All-Star against the Western All-Stars in New York, Jan. 18.

Coach Charlie Eckman of Fort Wayne already has the Western Assignment, for his Pistons hold a commanding lead in their division.

In other games Sunday Minneapolis turned back Boston 87-82 and Vern Mikkelsen's 20 points sparked the Lakers to their ninth straight home court triumph and Fort Wayne whipped Philadelphia 109-96.

Cage Tourney Opens At Madison Garden

NEW YORK (P)—The third annual ECAC Holiday Basketball Festival gets underway at Madison Square Garden today with afternoon and evening doubleheaders spotlighting some of the outstanding college teams in the nation.

In the afternoon pairings, Niagara (6-1) opposes UCLA (6-1) in the first game while La Salle (6-2) meets Syracuse (2-4) in the second contest. At night Duquesne (4-1) clashes with Villanova (4-0) in the opener and then Dayton (7-0) faces St. John's of Brooklyn (3-2) in the second game.

Five of the 8 teams are ranked among the nation's top 20 in the Associated Press poll. La Salle is 4th, Dayton 6th, Duquesne 9th, Niagara 10th and UCLA tied for 17th. The tournament concludes Friday.

South Used Pro Trick To Beat North 20-17

MIAMI, Fla. (P)—The South used a favorite defensive maneuver of professional football teams in beating the North 20-17 in the Shrine of College All Star game Christmas night.

South coach Andy Gustafson of Miami said he and Jim Tatum of Maryland, his assistant for the game, had four tactics in the line-up at times when the North drove deep into Rebel territory.

The game was played under free substitution rules, enabling Gustafson to throw the big men into the line when the opposition gets in scoring range.

Five Threats

The North, coached by Ivy Williamson of Wisconsin and Bernie Crimmins of Indiana, drove inside the South's 25 on five occasions. Once the Yanks got a touchdown. The other four times the solid South defense forced field goal attempts by Minnesota's Jim Soltau. He made good on only one. The other North touchdown came on a 52-yard pass play from Indiana's

Florian Helinski to Rhode Island's Pat Abruzzi

Maryland's Dick Bielski handled most of the South's fullbacking chores and was voted the outstanding player of the game, winning the honor over Wisconsin All-American Alan Ameche, who starred for the North.

Late Spurge

The South packed all of its scoring into the final 16 minutes of the game. Bielski got the first touchdown with a 14-yard burst on the last play of the third quarter, climaxing an 80-yard march. The bruising line-buster gained all but 23 of those 80 yards.

The North still led 10-6, however, on Soltau's field goal and a touchdown by Michigan State's Bert Zagers. And the Yanks quickly made it 17-6 on Abruzzi's jaunt. The South marched 76 yards with the following kickoff for another touchdown, Ronnie Walker of Maryland going over from the one.

With seven minutes left in the game, Miami's Carl Garrigus intercepted a pass from Helinski and the South drove 34 yards in 10 plays, Garrigus scoring the winning touchdown from the two.

It was the South's fifth victory in seven college all star games.

Back To Work For East-West Players

SAN FRANCISCO (P)—East and West squads get back to full-time drilling today in preparation for the Shrine All-Star football classic here New Year's Day.

The gridgers had only single workouts Sunday, mixing business with Christmas weekend relaxation.

Dicky Moegle, the Rice All-American, Jim Hanifan from California and Texas' Buck Lansford, all watched the West squad practice from the sidelines. Moegle and Lansford, suffering minor hurts, were due back in action today. Hanifan, the nation's leading pass catcher, was still nursing an injured leg and remained on the doubtful list.

The West's workout at Stanford was featured by sparkling displays of passing and receiving.

Americans Win Singles Matches In Opening Round Of Davis Cup

By WILL GRIMSLEY

SYDNEY, Australia (P)—America seized a firm, almost unbreakable grip on the Davis Cup today when two long-frustrated veterans, Tony Trabert and Vic Seixas, fought their way to almost identical four-set victories over young Australian foes in opening singles matches of the challenge round.

Looked Poor

But both Hartwig, just up from mumps, and Rose, a lefthander of shifting temperament, have been mediocre in practice this week and appear certain to watch the doubles from the sidelines.

"I was very proud of both Tony and Vic," said Trabert, whose ridiculed prediction of a 5-0 sweep now looks like a good bet. "Both of them followed our battle plans almost to the letter and they showed great fighting qualities."

A crowd of 25,578, largest crowd ever to see a tennis match anywhere, sat in the big wood and steel saucer for the day's program and most of them took a lingering look at the gleaming Davis Cup as they left the arena.

Doubles Tomorrow

"We'll clinch the cup tomorrow in the doubles. And then Wednesday's final singles matches will be just a formality."

Only one other time in the history of this storied international tennis competition dating back to 1900 has a team lost the opening two singles and come back to victory.

In Tuesday's doubles, with the United States leading 2-0, America will send out Trabert and Seixas again against Australia's Hoad and Rosewall. The Americans, who have established themselves as the best in the world, will be overwhelmingly favored.

Shaky Start

Trabert, his teeth clenched with determination, started shakily against Hoad, who has been in a terrible slump. But he held on grimly to gain the decision.

In the 22-game third set, which lasted more than an hour, Tony fought off one set point in the 17th game, twice came back from

Harry Hopman, a disappointed Aussie captain, has the choice between Rosewall and Hoad or Rex Hartwig and Mervyn Rose, who have a brilliant doubles record.

Followed Instructions

He followed Captain Talbert's instructions to serve to Rosewall's forehand and move to the net swiftly; also to attack Rosewall's second service and, if possible, the first with a shot to the forehand.

"Vic followed our campaign strategy to the letter," Talbert said. "I was very proud of him."

Rosewall had two set points in the first set against Seixas, holding a 40-15 lead in the ninth game but Seixas pulled out with a strong volley to the backline and then a forcing shot at Rosewall's feet which was flubbed into the net.

Hopman said he had nominated Hoad and Rosewall for the doubles but reserved the right to make a change an hour before the match.

Mental Pressure Too Much, Graham Claims

CLEVELAND (P)—Otto Graham, who says the "mental pressure" of T-formation quarterbacking is too much for a 33-year-old, bowed out of professional football Sunday amid the standing cheers of 43,827 fans.

Graham, who passed for three touchdowns and carried for three others, said definitely he was retiring after Cleveland's 56-10 championship victory over the Detroit Lions.

Cleveland fans, more demonstrative than ever before, poured from the stands and rimmed the sidelines two minutes before the game ended. Graham had to bull his way through backslappers to get to the dressing room.

Then, tugging off No. 14 jersey, he smiled and said quietly: "That's the way to quit. . . Go out on top."

Coach Paul Brown, surrounded by well-wishers in another part of the clubhouse, said he "hoped" Graham would reconsider.

The tension just before the kick-off prompted his decision, Graham explained. "I hate that pre-game feeling and it gets worse and worse as the years go by. . . It affects your stomach."

He also pointed out that in T-formation play, the "pressure is on the quarterback. . . . When he has a bad day the whole team is off."

Recalling the 17-16 title game licking the Lions handed the Browns last year, Graham said he made him "feel worse than I ever have in my whole life." He completed just 2 of 15 passes then for only 20 yards.

Report Andrews And Smith In Top Shape

MIAMI, Fla. (P)—Only light workouts remain on the training schedules of lightweight contender Boardwalk Billy Smith and Paul Andrews who meet Wednesday night in a scheduled 10-round boxing match at Dinner Key Auditorium.

The fighters were in "tip-top condition" said their trainers, for the nationally televised fight (CBS).

Smith, of Atlantic City, N. J., is ranked as number one light heavyweight contender. Andrews, of Buffalo, N. Y., is ranked fifth.

PASADENA, Calif. (P)—The holiday is over and back to work for the final five days drills went the Ohio State and Southern California Rose Bowl football teams today.

Actually, there won't be too much hard labor on the schedule prior to the start of this 41st annual postseason attraction.

Latest word from the rival coaches, Woody Hayes of the champion Ohio Staters, and Jess Hill of USC, was that their squads have whipped into battle condition.

All that is needed as a general tapering off, and unless either team shows signs of tapering too fast, there'll be no hard contact at all.

On top of this, both coaches admit they do not want to take a chance of injuring a performer at this late stage of affairs.

During the final scrimmages a star for each team was banged up. Ohio State's halfback Howard (Hopalong) Cassidy, sustained a hairline crack of the ninth rib but team physicians don't figure it will cause him trouble.

Southern California halfback Jon Arnett limped off the field Friday after suffering a twisted ankle.

Rate Lindquist Top Golf Star

A former Escanaba High School athlete, Clayton Lindquist, heads the Milwaukee County Public Links Golf Association ratings for 1954.

Announcement was made yesterday by the ratings committee, made up of the public link group's officers who awarded Lindquist, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Lindquist, 223 N. 18th St., 90 points.

Lindquist was runner-up to champion Bob Potkonjak in the Milwaukee Sentinel County Match Play Tournament, won the County Open Medal play tournament, was medalist in state qualifying for the United States public links meet and won two matches in the National Public Links tourney in Dallas, Tex.

Lindquist's nomination as top man in the Public Links ratings was a by a wide margin over his nearest challenger, Jim Levenhagen. Levenhagen was awarded 35 points.

Young Lindquist graduated from Escanaba High School in 1951.

Still No Ice, Hockey Game Tomorrow Is Out; Pioneers Here Jan. 4

Escanaba hockey fans will have to wait another week for a look at the 1954-55 version of the Hawks.

Scheduled to play the Marquette Sentinels Sunday afternoon at the fairgrounds exhibition building, the Hawks were forced to postpone the game because of thawing weather. This morning Jim McNicoll, Hawks business manager, announced that what ice they had over the weekend is gone and the cement is bare at the rink.

That means the Hawks will not play in Northern Michigan-Ontario League competition until next Tuesday, Jan. 4. On that night the popular Portage Lake Pioneers will be here to provide the opposition.

Lack of home ice is an annual problem for the Hawks but this season the disadvantage is even worse than usual. The Escanaba team was unable to use Marquette facilities for pre-season practice because of the fire at the Palestra in November.

For their efforts thus far this season the Hawks have two defeats on the books. They lost 4-2 in their start at Marquette and then fell 14-3 in another road trip to Portage Lake.

Hawks officials were working overtime last week to ready the exhibition building rink for weekend action and had a good foundation of ice started before warm weather threw a monkey wrench into plans.

If the current cold snap continues this week, ice will be guaranteed for the game next Tuesday against the powerful Pioneers, led by the famed Tony Bukovich.

The Calumet Radars moved into a tie for first place with Portage Lake over the Christmas weekend by beating the Pioneers 1-0 Saturday night and tying the same team Sunday at Dee Stadium, 6-6.

Standings to date:

Team	W	L	T
Calumet	2	0	1
Portage Lake	2	1	0
Canadian Soo	1	0	0
Marquette	1	3	0
Escanaba	0	2	0

Iron Mountain Boxers To Spar Here Tonight

Rangers Can't Break Streak

(By The Associated Press)

The New York Rangers still were hunting for their first victory in over a month today after going 13 consecutive games without winning a National Hockey League game.

The New Yorkers thought that they had the coveted triumph wrapped up Sunday night at the expense of the Chicago Black Hawks. But a pair of former mates came back to deprive them of victory and give them a 4-4 tie instead.

The Rangers were coasting along on a 3-1 cushion in the second period when Allan Stanley, who along with Nick Mickoski was traded to Chicago for Bill Gadsby and Pete Conacher, last month, took matters into his own hands.

Stanley, booted out of New York's Madison Square Garden last season, scored an unassisted goal and then added another tally to deadlock the game 3-3.

Ron Murphy's second goal of the night put New York back in front 4-3 midway in the third period. But Mickoski found the scoring range at 18:36 to knot the game for good. The only other game of the night also produced a standoff with Gordie Howe's 11th goal of the season earning Detroit a 1-1 tie with Toronto.

Make More Room For Kaline In Outfield

DETROIT (P)—Workmen at Briggs Stadium have started taking out 75 box seats from the right field pavilion to make the corner safer for Tiger outfielder Al Kaline.

Walter O. (Spike) Briggs, president of the Tigers, ordered the move last summer after Kaline crashed into the stands trying for a running catch.

Although Kaline finished the game, a severe injury to his knee later developed because of the accident.

Navy Favored In Sugar Bowl

NEW ORLEANS (P)—Navy and Mississippi were set today to open final practice sessions for their New Year's Day football battle in the Sugar Bowl.

Navy coach Eddie Erdelatz said he would hold workouts twice a day until Friday when he would send the team through a final polishing session. Mississippi Coach Johnny Vaughn said he would hold afternoon workouts up until Friday's final light meeting.

Navy will drill at Tulane University while Mississippi will hold its sessions at Biloxi, Miss., about 90 miles from New Orleans on the Gulf Coast.

Navy will drill at Tulane University while Mississippi will hold its sessions at Biloxi, Miss., about 90 miles from New Orleans on the Gulf Coast.

Navy rules a three-point favorite, mainly because of the Mid-Atlantic's 27-20 victory over powerful Army in the season finale.

But the Rebels have their own ideas about the game's outcome and the key to the game could well hinge on the passing arm of a 178-pound quarterback with the appropriate nickname Eagle.

Herman (Eagle) Day, a Mississippi native who completed 40 of 85 pass attempts during the Rebels 10-game season, may be the margin on which the Rebels are banking.

Bucceroni And Brion In Heavyweight Bout

By MURRAY ROSE

NEW YORK (P)—Heavyweights Dan Bucceroni and Cesar Brion meet tonight in what could be billed as a battle for survival at New York's St. Nicholas Arena (DuMont-TV, 9 p.m., CST).

Although neither has been doing well of late, they still possess formidable won-lost records. Bucceroni, of Philadelphia, has a 46-5 slate with 30 knockouts. Brion's record is 43-10 with 20 knockouts.

The heavyweight class being what it is today, it doesn't take more than two good showings to get back in the rankings. It only took two wins by Charley Norkus to get back in the money, and Bucceroni and Brion hope to do the same.

Wildcat Billy McNeece, a crowd pleasing 22-year old middleweight from Islip, N. Y., takes on veteran Bobby Dykes of Miami at Brooklyn's Eastern Parkway in the other TV show tonight (ABC-TV, 9 p.m., CST).

Boxing Deaths Down To Six This Year

NEW YORK (P)—Six boxers died in 1954 from ring injuries—a sharp drop from the record 22 in 1953—Ring Magazine disclosed today in a copyrighted article in its February issue.

Editor Nat Fleischer of the monthly boxing publication called the decline in fatalities from the year before one of the few bright spots in an otherwise drab year for the sport.

Fleischer and his worldwide staff selected heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano as "Fighter of the Year" and singled out Argentina's Pascual Perez, world flyweight champion, for its "progress of the year" award.

In 1953, 12 pros and 10 amateurs, died following ring injuries. Eight of the fatalities occurred in the United States and 14 in foreign countries.

In 1954, three amateurs and three pros succumbed, four here and two abroad.

There wasn't a pro death until Nov. 30 when British welterweight Bobby Callaghan died in London after boxing a six round draw. Then Ralph Weiser, a Portland, Ore., lightweight and Ed Sanders, Olympic heavyweight champion, from Los Angeles, died on successive days, Dec. 11 and Dec. 12th.

The amateur victims were Police Constable Vaipou Aina'u, 35, at Samoa, Feb. 18; Airman Jesse L. Hylton, 22, at Oakland, Calif., and Aviation Ordnanceman M. G. Byrd, 22, at Pensacola, Fla., Sept. 9.

Fleischer listed increased safety measures and closer cooperation among the state commissions as the major reasons for the decline in fatalities.

Eight of the 13 undefeated big-time teams will play in tournaments. Four others will continue their regular-season schedule, and only one, Auburn with five victories, will not see any action.

Among the other undefeateds, Kentucky, the winner of its own invitation tournament last week and the No. 1 team in the country in the latest Associated Press poll, will try to run its skinn to seven against St. Louis and Temple; Penn, 6-0, plays Pitt; Vanderbilt with 4-0, goes against Stanford, and Seton Hall, 7-0, tackles Stanford and Gonzaga.

Bing Devine Gets Baseball Promotion

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Vaughn T. (Bing) Devine will be an administrative liaison man in the St. Louis Cardinals' scouting and minor league department, moving up after six years as general manager of Rochester in the International League.

The 38-year-old Devine, who joined the Cardinal organization in 1939, will be replaced at the club's class AAA Rochester farm club by George E. Sisler Jr., general manager at Columbus of the American Association the past two years.

The Cardinals announced the shifts Saturday.

Baylor Bears Arrive At Gator Bowl Site

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—The Baylor Bears were scheduled to arrive here today and Auburn's football team will move in Tuesday to take final workouts for the Gator Bowl game Friday.

Coach George Sauer plans to hold drills for the Baylor players Tuesday and Wednesday, then a short workout Thursday.

Coach Ralph Jordan's Auburn Tigers reassembled on the campus in Alabama today and will workout here three times before the game.

Benny Bengough, former Yankee catcher, is the only coach to be retained from the 1954 staff by new Phillie manager Mayo Smith.

Light Workouts Only For New Year's Game

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—Only light workouts are slated the rest of the way for Texas Western and Florida State, football opponents in the annual New Year's Day Bowl game.

Texas Western hit the practice field again today after a week-long vacation during Christmas week.

Florida State was slated for two light practices today and then a Tuesday plane trip to El Paso. Seminole Coach Tom Nugent plans daily workouts for his team, probably stressing pass offense and defense, until the Saturday game.

Red Wings Tie Maple Leafs 1-1

DETROIT (AP)—Gordie Howe scored suddenly and unexpectedly in the final period Sunday night to give the Detroit Red Wings a 1-1 tie with the Toronto Maple Leafs in a National Hockey League game.

It was Howe's 11th goal of the season and kept the Wings three points ahead of the Leafs in the NHL race. The tie also pulled Detroit to within three points of the league-leading Montreal Canadiens, who were idle.

The Leafs had nursed a 1-0 lead on a freak first-period tally by Rudy Migay. Migay lofted a 90-footer which landed in front of Terry Sawchuk, took a crazy bounce and slid between Sawchuk's legs into the net.

Referee Frank Udvari called 13 penalties in the first two periods. His strict whistle eliminated a lot of roughhousing but tamed the game considerably, since both sides were continually short-handed.
